

I think it is a great option to have the ability to order a la carte channels. Often the pre-set packages the cable/satellite companies they provide is more advantageous to the company than the consumer. I don't want to pay for channels that I hardly use.